WOMEN$ Fund was established in 1995 as a program of the YWCA and fully implemented in Spring 1996. WOMEN$Fund is a microenterprise training and microlending program for women entrepreneurs in Anchorage, Alaska. Consistent with the National YWCA's mission to empower women and girls and to eliminate racism, the programs of the YWCA of Anchorage promote independence, knowledge and self-esteem, especially for low-income and minority women. WOMEN$Fund's mission is to secure financial independence for women through the provision of capital and technical assistance. By providing training classes in entrepreneurship, technical assistance, individual mentoring and seed money for women-owned small businesses, WOMEN$ Fund seeks to empower low- and moderate-income single-parent and minority women in Anchorage and surrounding Alaska communities for economic self-sufficiency. In late 2002, the WBC changed its name to WOMEN$finances to compliment the YWCA program changes.

We provide entrepreneurial counseling and training to women at any stage of small business ownership. We use the FastTrac curriculum for training as well as experienced speakers from the communities we serve on a variety of topics. Monthly and quarterly mentoring groups are in the formative stage and there are quarterly networking programs. A circuit-rider concept is developing for the rural counties. We have a computer training lab room at our location in Birmingham where monthly training is held on a variety of topics specific to Microsoft Office programs. Specific workshops will include a four-hour course on Developing Your Selling Skills and a three-hour program on Running Your Home Based Business that is held quarterly. Check out our website for the current program calendar. Continual followup and mentoring provides opportunities for successful

The ARWBDC is located in Pine Bluff, "the Gateway to the Delta." The program was funded in September 1999 to provide education, training, technical assistance to women-owned businesses, focusing mainly on those owned by minorities. From 1988 to 1998, over 30 percent of the participants in the Good Faith Fund's entrepreneurship programs were on some form of public assistance. Arkansas has the lowest per capita income in the U.S., and the poverty rate in the Delta is 118 percent above the national average. Business training programs include FastTrac entrepreneurial training, a women's business mentoring program that provides advanced business training for women who have been in business for at least 1 year and helps in developing relationships with mentors, a specialized business training module for childcare providers due to the high demand for childcare in the Delta. Other services include technical assistance, help with business plan writing, business counseling, and special workshops, which include Internet training and money-management seminars. The Center currently serves two cities; Forrest City and Pine Bluff, Arkansas.

Founded in 1976, Mi Casa Resource Center for Women provides quality employment and education services that promote economic independence for low-income, predominantly Latina women and youth. Services include educational counseling, job-readiness and job-search training, life-skills development, job placement, and non-traditional and computer-skills training. Mi Casa's belief that self-employment was a viable way for a woman to achieve self-sufficiency. Entrepreneurial training is provided through "Day and Evening Entrepreneurial Training Program". An entrepreneurial training course, "Mi Negocio," is offered in Spanish. Workbooks were developed for the courses, in English and Spanish. Mi Casa offers train-the-trainer opportunities, financial literacy classes are conducted and procurement training and technical assistance to other microenterprise organizations. In all the courses, individuals learn how to start a business and develop a business plan, with microloans available to program graduates. The Business Development Program Financial Resources Project offers Individual Development Accounts for business start-up or expansion. The center is an SBA Pre-Qual Lender and has an exclusive opportunity for clients in offering SBA Community Express Loans. The on-line business directory, "Let's Shop" is featured on the Mi Casa website.

The WEDA/ Metropolitan Atlanta Women's Business Center (MAWHC) provides business development, management and technical assistance to emerging, intermediate and advanced-stage women entrepreneurs throughout the twenty-two county metropolitan Atlanta areas. The centerpiece of the WEDA / MAWBC is the Atlanta Microenterprise Initiative, a comprehensive, fourteen-week workshop that helps emerging and new entrepreneurs learn how to start and manage a successful business, as well as how to determine funding needs and write a detailed business plan. Through support from the Internal Revenue Service the WEDA / MAWBC also offers Impuestos Ahora! (Taxes Now!), a Spanish-language-only workshop that helps Latino entrepreneurs understand their business taxpayer rights and responsibilities. Other seminars include the Non-Profit Workshop, the Patents and Trademarks Workshop and Demystifying the Business Financing Process, which are designed for owners of non-profit businesses, those with intellectual and similar business property and those seeking information on business funding options, respectively. The WEDA / MAWBC is also a SBA Technical Assistance Provider and originates and packages SBA-guaranteed Community Express microloans of up to $25,000. Women's Economic Development Agency, Inc. (WEDA) is a bi-lingual organization and all MAWBC programs (With the exception of Impuestos Ahora!) are available in both English and Spanish.

EDGE provides business education, counseling, mentoring and networking for entrepreneurs and small businesses. Our mission is to help build financially sound businesses across each stage of business development--start-up, management, expansion and continuous improvement. Our offerings include professional seminars, one-on-one counseling, and peer focus groups. We help clients identify appropriate funding sources for their business; become certified as minority-owned, women-owned or disadvantaged businesses; and complete documents needed for financing and certification programs. We also match interested clients with business coaches or subject-matter experts in relevant fields. Throughout, we work with other local business assistance groups to provide a full range of services without duplicating existing quality programs.

Founded in 1986, the Women's Business Development Center serves women business owners in the greater Chicago area, and advocates for women business owners nationwide. The WBDC has helped establish women's business centers since 1989 in Illinois, Ohio, Florida, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. The WBDC provides a variety of entrepreneurial training courses and seminars: one-to-one counseling; financial assistance and loan packaging for microloans; the SBA Loan Prequalification Program, and other SBA and government loan programs, technology, e-business and equity finance programs; WBE certification, and private- and public-sector procurement; an annual conference and Women's Buyers Mart; and extensive advocacy and policy development for women's economic and business-development issues. A strategic alliance with private and public partners will extend WBDC's reach to the most needy communities. The WBDC also provides services through a local bank's "Wheels of Business" van, which travels to low-income neighborhoods and offers training and counseling.

The Central Indiana Women's Business Center is a program of the Neighborhood Self-Employment Initiative. The Center provides services to emerging and existing business owners in the 10 county Indianapolis metropolitan area. The 10-county area includes Marion, Hamilton, Hancock, Shelby, Johnson, Brown, Morgan, Hendricks, Putnam and Boone counties. Some of the Center's assistance is provided in Spanish. The Center's services include business training classes and workshops, one-on-one business counseling, mentoring and Internet related training. Business training includes the 20-hour Business Beginnings course that covers major topics related to starting and operating a business. While the Center's services are available to anyone, we heavily target our efforts toward people who are not in the economic mainstream. This includes the working poor, immigrants, female heads of households, minorities, under-and unemployed and others who experience barriers to full participation in the mainstream economy. For many in our target group, starting a small business may make the difference between poverty and self-sufficiency.

The WBC at Cornerstone Alliance provides the entrepreneurial training needed to start a small business, as well as the follow-up services needed to sustain and expand a business. We've tailored the programs to fit the needs of our constituency. Programs and counseling are offered in at least two languages (English and Spanish). Since starting a business often affects all aspects of a woman's life, the WBC at Cornerstone Alliance has four components: personal readiness assessment, business readiness assessment, entrepreneurial training/business plan development, and follow-up services. Follow-up services include one-on-one business counseling, seminars, a microloan fund, technical assistance, and networking opportunities. Our entrepreneurial training/business plan development class includes, but are not limited to Core Four Business Planning Course; Internet Training; Women's Network for Entrepreneur Training (WNET)/Roundtable and Mentoring Program; Economic Literacy; Certification Institute (the Child Development Associate (CDA) credential is awarded to qualified caregivers who have been trained to provide quality care for children); Workshops (our workshops zero in on specific topics of interest to small business owners and give participants the benefit of straight talk from people in the field); and Networking and Volunteerism.

The Northeast Entrepreneur Fund Women's Business Center serves potential and existing women entrepreneurs in a 9-county region of northeast Minnesota and northwest Wisconsin. We help women start, stabilize, or expand small businesses in our region through training, business counseling, and financing. We also offer opportunities through mentorship and formal networking events. The Northeast Entrepreneur Fund Women's Business Center intends to raise public awareness of women entrepreneurs through presentations to various organizations, clubs, and agencies; placing articles in the media; and being an advocate for women on local, state, and national levels. Business planning workshops and classes are offered regularly at several locations throughout our region, as well as online. Our business development and training staff consists of experienced entrepreneurs who provide both individual consulting and group training. Loans are available to individuals who may be unable to receive financing from a bank or other traditional source; we offer loans of up to $35,000 to start-up business or up to $100,000 to existing businesses and experienced entrepreneurs. For more information on our programs and services, visit the Northeast Entrepreneur Fund website at www.entrepreneurfund.org.

Mississippi Action for Community Education Inc. (MACE) administers the Mississippi Women's Business Center. MACE has been in the forefront of economic-development in the Delta for the past thirty-five years. Its target customers are disadvantaged persons and under-served communities in one of the most economically depressed areas in the country. The goal of the MACE Women's Business Center is consistent with the organization's mission: "Helping people to help themselves." The WBC educates women on all aspects of business development, including principles of business management, social responsibility and how to build wealth consistent with the cultural dynamics of the delta. We offer small business training, on-going technical assistance, one-on-one counseling to start-up and existing business owners. The WBC utilizes MACE's teleconferencing centers to extend our services to rural/isolated communities that are otherwise unable to access training and technical assistance.

Through partnerships with SBA resources, colleges and universities, the North Dakota Department of Commerce, the Center for Technology and Business/Women and Technology Program provides simplified computer training business-development and technical assistance to clients throughout North Dakota. The center has developed a simplified curriculum to teach rural and reservation-based folks how to use a computer with Microsoft programs in just 12 hours. They have published five books: Introductory, Intermediate, Windows Management, Power Up with Projects, and Web Page Design, plus numerous modules such as PowerPoint, Access, Digital Images for Realtors and rural City Planners. These programs are run through the business information center, tribal business information centers, and economic-development offices throughout the state. During their first three years, they assisted more than 8000 clients.

The Women's Business Center in Nebraska is a program of the Center for Rural Affairs' Rural Enterprise Assistance Project (REAP). REAP's WBC is the first and only SBA funded Women's Business Center in the state of Nebraska. REAP is committed to strengthening rural communities through small, self-employed business development assistance. REAP's Women's Business Center project is a center without "walls", using REAP's infrastructure with business specialists located throughout the state to deliver the WBC services to rural small businesses. REAP's Women's Business Center will serve existing and start-up self-employed women across rural Nebraska, improve the accessibility of REAP's basic business training across Nebraska for women, provide Internet training for women in business on a regional basis, participate in an on-line Women's Business Center (OWBC) co-sponsored by SBA, increase REAP's outreach to provide training, technical assistance, networking and lending, targeting socially and economically disadvantaged women through our existing infrastructure.

The Women's Business Center, a New Hampshire-based nonprofit, promotes women's business ownership as a means to maximize personal potential and achieve economic independence. The New Hampshire WBC, established in 1995, supports entrepreneurial women as they begin and grow their businesses. The NH WBC is physically located in Portsmouth, New Hampshire but offers programs and services across the region of southeastern New Hampshire, northern Massachusetts and southern Maine. The WBC accomplishes its mission by providing Educational Programming, Advocacy, Networking, Counseling and Mentorship. The NH WBC programs provide access to information, networking and skill development opportunities. Our intensive course, "Business Development for Women" take potential women business owners through business, financial and marketing planning to establish the knowledge and skills to start or grow their business. Check out the "Program Calendar" section of our website, www.womenbiz.org to see the most recent programs and opportunities. Participation in NH Women's Business Center activities is open to anyone regardless of race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, physical ability, or familial status.

The Women's Economic Self-Sufficiency Team was incorporated in 1988 to assist low-income and minority women throughout New Mexico. WESST Corp. clients typically need long-term training and technical assistance. The centers serve both startup and expanding businesses, and provide training and counseling in both English and Spanish. Counseling and mentoring are offered through professional volunteers including attorneys, accountants, insurance agents and benefits counselors. Because of the rural nature of the areas it serves, WESST Corp. trainers often travel to clients' businesses. WESST Corp. has the only SBA Microloan Program in New Mexico and is an SBA Loan Prequalification Program intermediary. Under its newest grant, WESST Corp. serves Roswell and the surrounding seven-county area. With the closing of the Levi Strauss plant in the fall of 1997, the area's unemployment rate jumped to one of the highest in southeast New Mexico -- more than 12 percent, with approximately a fourth of the residents living below the poverty line.

Recognizing that a job is the best way out of poverty, much of our planning is based on increasing our involvement in programs that assist low- income women with employment, business, and job skills. Because jobs are hard to come by throughout the Northern New York/Canadian border region, we believe the right focus for our organization is to develop an aggressive, consistent and sustainable program to encourage and assist women in their personal efforts to create, launch and expand their own small businesses.

The new center will provide training in financing, marketing, management, technical assistant, networking and support. A focus on business expansion will be added for successful start-up companies now ready to expand or diversify their companies, along with a basic course to help low-skilled individuals acquire the foundation of business skills and knowledge they need to develop and launch successful business ventures.

The Northern New York WEBC has chosen the Fast Trac Program, developed by the Kaufman Entrepreneurial Program in Kansas City, to serve as one of the core curriculum. It was selected for both the variety of topics covered and the training program's three levels of instruction-"First Step" for low-skilled individuals, "New Venture" for those seeking to start a business, and "Planning" for existing business owners. Additionally, we will provide outside consultants and contractors to provide counseling, training and technical assistance, based upon their areas of expertise in loan packaging, marketing assistance or Internet training.

Together with the SBA's commitment to helping women entrepreneurs and our WEBC organization we will achieve its national

The Women's Venture Fund is based on a radically simple idea: empowering women, particularly low-income women, to create new businesses by making microloans available to them, and then ensuring their success through mentoring and training. The Fund makes microloans to entrepreneurial women who cannot get funding through conventional sources. These women have great ideas but desperately need small loans, business planning, and the support it takes to develop a business into reality. By addressing their credit and training needs, the Fund enhances the ability of women to grow their businesses over time.

The Women's Business Border Center is managed by the El Paso Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, and currently has 15 full-time staff professionals most of whom are of Hispanic descent and bilingual (English-Spanish) and experienced in providing services to small, women, and minority business owners. The Chamber's staff reflects the seventy-three percent (73%) Hispanic population of the region. A WBBC satellite office is located in El Puente CDC to target the 35,000 displaced workers and other economically disadvantaged residents within the Empowerment and HUB Zone areas. Bilingual business skills and management training is available through the "Financial Literacy Series", also produces bilingual training manuals, including: "So, you want to start a business?", "The Basic Components of a Business Plan", and "Website Marketing". Other services include arranging for local entrepreneurs to provide online mentoring and providing demographic statistics regarding women entrepreneurs along the U.S. Mexico border. "Water Cooler Talks" focuses on the roughly 4,000 SOHO to assess their needs and challenges. Due to large military presence, the Chamber has implemented the Women in the Battlefield program, which assists female veterans transitioning into civilian life. Bilingual assistance is provided for all.
